REMAINS OF "DANNY" STENE LAID TO REST HERE

The remains of Daniel Stene, popularly known in The Pass as "Danny," who died at Cadomin on Sunday, following a very brief illness, were brought to Blairmore by yesterday morning's train, accompanied by his brother David, daughters Nellie, Bella and Margaret, and son-in-laws, P. Shearer, S. Millar and J. Ferguson respectively.

Mr. Stene reached his sixtieth birthday on March 12th last. His wife predeceased him on December 24, 1907.

Being one of the very old-timers of the Crows' Nest Pass, particularly of Frank, the funeral here last evening was very largely attended. Pallbearers were: James Cardell and James Turnbull, Bellevue; Alex. Ferguson, Bill A'lan and P. Shearer, Cadomin, and David Kemp, junior, Blairmore.

Service was held at the Ferguson Undertaking Parlor by Rev. J. W. Smith, B.D., and interment took place in the Union cemetery, where final services were held by Rev. Mr. Smith of the United church, and Evan Morgan on behalf of the Miners' Union.

The late Mr. Stene resided at Frank until about fifteen years ago, where his children were school pupils for a number of years. His brother David left Frank for other fields of labor some twenty-one years ago. Both were pioneers of Frank, residing there prior to and at the time of the Slide.

The relatives of the deceased, wish to thank the old-timers of the Crows' Nest Pass for kind expressions of sympathy and floral tributes.

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"

On Friday night of past week, April 24th, a real treat is promised by the Coleman Players in their staging of "It Pays to Advertise."

The play is being staged at the Coleman opera house under the auspices of St. Alban's vestry and comprises a three-act farcical fast.

The cast includes the following artists: Edith Hayson, Hilda Clifford, Alice McInlock, Kathleen Milley, Maurice W. Cooke, Arthur E. Graham, R. F. Barnes, Sidney Short, C. J. Devine, A. S. McInlock, Fred Guerdar with Mr. Arthur E. Graham as director.

A limited number of reserved seats are offered. The seat plan may be seen and tickets procured at Chardon's store, Blairmore, during the afternoon and evening of Friday.

There will also be a matinee for children at 3.30 p.m.

Anyone having an exceptionally good snap of the Crows' Nest mountain would do well to forward same to The Enterprise or to Mr. F. W. Godsal an old-timer, now residing at 1917 Hampshire Road, Victoria, B.C. Mr. Godsal informs us that the new Alpine Club cabin at Banff is to be named "Crows' Nest," and he has promised to present the club with an enlarged picture of the mountain.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT HELD AT FRANK

A most successful concert was staged at Frank on Friday night last by the Frank Juvenile Entertainers. The hall was crowded and congratulations have been showered upon the members of the club for the excellent entertainment provided. There was not a dull moment from the time Jumbo showed his black face on the stage to intimate the first item on the programme, till the curtain was rung down with "God Save The King."

Jerry Herman contributed two pleasing violin solos, which were well received. The Doll Drill was excellently carried through by ten primary girls, as also was "The Brownies" by primary boys. The comic element was worthily upheld by Jumbo, Gambo and Mr. Johnson, the three characters being taken by Joe Krywolt, Frank Edl and Dan Kroil, respectively, who kept the large audience in an uproar with gross-talk and burlesque entertainment. Three short plays were staged, with the following casts: "The Tea Party"—Frances L'ville as Mrs. Blount, Julia Patera as Miss Bitterword, Rosy Bahura as Miss T. Monker, Renee Pirolet as Mrs. True, and Bella Kroil as Miss Prim.

"The Wonderful Mr. Vanderhoof"—Antoinette Patera as Miss Grace Lee, Margaret Murray as Miss Margaret Lee, Elizabeth Kotas as Mrs. Blount, Frances L'ville as Aunt Nabby, Robert Smith as Walter May Campbell, Jerry Herman as Augustus Vanderhoof and Bahous Bahura as Mr. Lee. "Mrs. Peabody's Boarder"—Rosy Bahura as Miss Dare, Joan Linn as Mrs. Peabody, Margaret Murray as Bridget O'Brien, Meta Sherring as Miss Sophronia Smith, Bella Kroil as Miss Ann Mills, Robert Smith as Mr. Smith and Bahous Bahura as Mr. Mills.

The Scotch county dances went with a swing and formed one of the most popular items in the program. The girls participating were: Frances L'ville, Meta Sherring, Rosy Bahura, Joan Linn, Julia Patera, Margaret Murray, Bella Kroil, Antoinette Patera and Beth Murray.

The Club desires through the Enterprise to thank the following for their assistance in making the concert a success: the School Trustees for the use of the hall free of charge; the Village Councillors for the use of the chairs; Mr. Krywolt, the genial proprietor of the Frank hotel, for the use of seats; Mr. Kotas and his orchestra for assistance throughout the programme, and Messrs. Bill Davis and Charlie Petusank for supplying the music for the dances.

As a result of the concert, the club will have a nice little sum to put by for supplying dresses for an operetta which they expect to stage in the early fall.

Word comes from Vancouver, stating that Charlie Chestnut, who for the past three years has been laid up with a bad leg, is now quite convalescent and has been discharged by the compensation board. He is still drawing a small compensation fee, however.

DEMURE LITTLE MISS APPEARS IN PRINT

Today's bolero model is youthful in style and coloring. It's fascinating in soft yellow and blue chalice-like woolens, so lovely for Springtime without a topcoat. The collar of course, like all the French models, is of white pique. It is hem-stitched professionally, separating the scallops to give a petal-like effect.

And to add to its attractiveness, it is accompanied by matching bloomers with knee bands.

Style No. 200 is designed for girls of 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Crepe de chine prints, tweed-like cottons, wool crepe, wool jersey, rayon novelties and linen are also perfect mediums for this adorable dress.

It is easily fashioned! The small expenditure will surprise you! Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin in preferred). Wrap card carefully.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

SUGAR COOKIES

2½ cups special flour, sifted.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon nutmeg.
½ cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar.
2 eggs, well beaten.
1 lemon.
1 tablespoon cream.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and nutmeg, and sift together twice. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, lemon rind, and cream, and beat well. Add flour a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Roll into thin sheet on slightly floured board. Cut with round cookie cutter and dredge with sugar. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) about 7 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen cookies.

CELERY SAUCE

Cook ½ cup chopped celery in 1½ cups salted boiling water 20 minutes. Drain, reserving both liquid and celery. Melt 1½ tablespoons butter, add 1½ tablespoons flour, and when smooth add the reserved celery liquid with enough more water to make 1 cup. Stir and boil 1 minute. Add the celery, bring to boiling point, season to taste with paprika and more salt, if necessary, and keep over hot water until ready to serve. Just before serving, add 1 egg yolk and ½ cup cream, stir and cook 2 minutes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 19

THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS

Golden Text: "Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal."—Matthew 6:20.

Lesson: Luke 16:1 to 17:37.

Devotional Reading: 1 John 3:13-18.

Explanations and Comments

The Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus, 16:19-31.—We call this rich man of the parable "Dives," making use of the Latin word for "rich man." Dives was clad in purple and fine linen; his outer garment was dyed purple, and his inner garment was made from a sort of flax that grows on the banks of the Nile, so finely woven as to be almost transparent. "Purple and fine linen" is a phrase used to this day for luxury and ostentation.

"We remember with sorrow and compassion the idle rich, who have vigor of body and mind and yet produce no useful thing. Forgive them, Heavenly Father, for leading the lives which would feed the pale children of the poor. Forgive them for setting their splendour before the thirsty hearts of the young, juring them to theft or shame by the lust of eyes and flesh. Forgive them for taking pride in their selfish lives."—Walter Rauschenburch.

Lazarus (the name is a contraction of Eleazar, "Helped of God"), was a beggar who was brought to the rich man's gate, where he hoped to be fed from the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. So helpless was he that even the dogs came and licked his sores. Wretched dogs roamed the streets and lived upon the garbage that was thrown out from the houses. The suggestion is that the dogs were kinder than the rich man, or else that they increased his misery by rasping his sores.

"When the beggar died, he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom." "Abraham's bosom" is a Jewish name, not of heaven, but of an intermediate state of bliss, in which the souls of the just await the resurrection." In His parable Jesus made use of the well-known rabbinical fancies—angel bearers, Abraham's bosom, the two divisions of Hades, the separation and yet communication between them—but His doing so does not mean that He accepted these fancies for the truth. His purpose in His story was not to reveal the nature of the life hereafter, but to teach that retribution overtakes the sinner, and in doing this he deliberately adopted the picture language then current which admirably suited his purpose.

The rabbi said, "The fire of Gehenna has no power over the sinners of Israel, for Abraham descends and rescues them from it." In accordance with this thought, the rich man, who had also died, appeals to Abraham from his place of torment and begs him to send Lazarus to him, so that he may be cooled with water on the tip of his finger. But Abraham bids Dives to remember that in his lifetime he had had the good things while Lazarus had had the evil; now Lazarus is rewarded while he's punished.

Synthetic Air

Better Than Natural Air, According To Scientists

Science believes it can give mankind synthetic air to breathe that is better than the natural atmosphere, the American Chemical Society was told.

Professor J. W. Hershey, McPherson College, McPherson, Kas., said experiments have shown that life can be sustained more healthfully with a chemically concocted atmosphere, which can be manufactured and introduced in office buildings, airplanes and submarines, than with the nitrogen-oxygen that surrounds the world.

Experiments with white mice showed that in some cases they lived more healthfully in helium-oxygen than in nitrogen-oxygen, Professor Hershey said.

A strangely mottled discoloration which attacks otherwise healthy teeth of children in certain parts of the country, notably Texas, is due to the chemical element fluorine, according to R. V. Churchill, who described his investigations before the convention.

The fluorine discoloration, which apparently does not cause tooth decay but is located under the enamel, comes from the fluorine element sometimes present in drinking water, Churchill said.

South Africa's record gold production in 1930 is continuing this year.

Apples in Egypt

Canadian Apples Are Being Well Received in the Cairo Market

The market for Canadian products, particularly apples, is ever widening. Recent reports indicate that a potential market of considerable interest to Canadian growers is available in Egypt. Canadian apples are being well received in the Cairo market, selling at around $4.88½ per box. They have not only won recognition as the best apples coming onto the Egyptian Market, but apparently they can be laid down there at a price which makes them more attractive than other fancy apple importations from the United States.—Dominion Department of Agriculture.

"Dance, Fools, Dance"

A synopsis, published by permission of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Co., of the Talking Picture Story of Modern Youth packed with Thrills and Romance, to be shown at Bellevue, April 22nd and 23rd.

BERTRAND JORDAN, millionaire stock broker of Chicago, had taught his son and daughter two things: dancing to the daughter and drinking to the son. Rod and Bonnie Jordan were never absent from a party of the fastest clique in the speakeasy set of Chicago's youth.

Tonight they were up to their usual standard. Bonnie was dancing a torchy number for the amusement of her guests aboard her father's palatial yacht, and Rod had drunk himself under the table in the main saloon.

Bob Wentworth, the most eligible bachelor in the millionaire class, was dancing attendance on Bonnie. The look of admiration bestowed upon him whenever he spoke, was the giveaway to her friends. They finished a tango together and drew off to one side of the huge ballroom.

"Step on it," Bonnie said quickly to Bob. "Keep the party going."

Bob addressed the crowd, acting as master of ceremonies:

"How about a little moonlight bathing, everybody? Cool the fevered brow?"

"Fine—let's go!"

"But, Bob, we haven't enough suits to go around!" Bonnie protested.

"Wait. Lights, there, Halloran! Stand by everybody! and off with your clothes," Bob said.

The girls screamed as they tore off their frocks. Their figures emerged white on the dimly lighted deck. The boys also rapidly undressed.

"This isn't decent!" a girl's voice said in the darkness, giggling.

"Who wants it to be?" a boy's voice answered.

Bob and Bonnie stepped from their evening clothes.

"Bonnie!" Bob called.

They were upright now, two slim, youthful figures silhouetted against the night.

"I'm betting a bracelet against an endurance kiss that I can stay under longer than you can!"

"Spoken like a gentleman."

She reached out and shook his hand with a boyish swagger.

"Now—ready, everybody! To the rail, my hearties!"

There was a wild dash to the rails. Pretty girls in step-ins, boys in B. V. D.'s. They poised, then went over with a splash.

Hand in hand, Bob and Bonnie dived down together.

Bonnie was dressed in a negligee. She sat before her mirror after the swim. Bob came to the door of her stateroom. He was in his dressing robe. She put down her comb and looked at him. Bob didn't speak. He just stood looking at her.

"Well?" Bonnie asked gently.

This was the moment she had been waiting for. She loved Bob—madly—terribly. How much did he care for her?

"I suppose you know I'm very much in love with you?"

"Are you?"

She looked up at him. There was a pause. They were so close, so young, so full of life and the thrill of living. They almost melted into each other's arms. He kissed her, a long kiss. Bonnie was ecstatic.

"I'm crazy about you, and you know it?"

"I didn't know—"

"Well, you know it now. What about it?"

"That's it. What?"

"Going to make me stand on ceremony?"

"Think I'm so old-fashioned?"

"I hope not."

"You're right. I'm not. I believe in trying love out!"

"On approval?"

"Yes! On approval!"

He kissed her. It made it all so easy. She snuggled against him, rapturously happy.

"It's a grand age to be in love, Bob."

Everything's fifty-fifty nowadays."

When the stock market crashed and Bonnie's father died, leaving her and her brother, Rod, penniless, Bob came to do "the right thing" by Bonnie. He figured that he owed her marriage.

"Well, you know you can count on me. I'll do the right thing, Bonnie," Bob had said.

"The right thing?—" Bonnie asked.

"I'll marry you, of course!"

A very magnanimous gesture! Bonnie was hurt. There was no mention of love, no taking her in his arms with a lover's compassionate affection. He had merely offered to marry her; to do the "right thing."

"That's funny!" Bonnie cried out.

"Funny?"

"Yes, 'What's funny?'"

"You think you ought to marry me."

"It's the least I can do, isn't it?"

"Kiss me, Bob," Bonnie said, suddenly direct.

If he kissed her with his first ardor it would tell her what she needed to know. He kissed her. He was too unsettled in his mind to make a convincing job of it. Something was lacking and she felt it. She drew away, her eyes sick with disappointment. Then quickly to cover her feelings, she smiled courageously at him and said:

"Don't be silly, darling. You don't have to be a martyr to the cause. Everything was fifty-fifty, you know that."

"You mean it?"

"Fifty-fifty! Absolutely! No obligations on anybody's part. So cheer up. No wedding bells for us."

"You're not being heroic, or—"

"I assure you, I'm quite myself."

Like my freedom as much as you do, and I'm going to keep it!"

"Spoken like a gentleman!" he said. "Good scout, Bonnie. I might have known it."

"Relieved?"

"Well, I hadn't exactly figured on walking up the aisle this Winter, but give me credit. I was willing!"

"Noble! Barks! Spoken like a gentleman!" she said, shaking his hand this time. Bob laughed.

"Smoke?" Bob was positively gay.

"Sure!"

She took the cigarette, got it half way to her lips and then hesitated. She looked up at her father's portrait over the fire, broke the cigarette slowly to two and tossed it deliberately aside.

"No?" Bob asked surprised.

"No," Bonnie answered. "Bob—would you mind going now?"

"If there's anything I can do for you, I hope you'll let me know," he said as he went out.

"Nice of you to call," Bonnie said, brokenly.

The house was sold over the heads of Bonnie and Rod. All their old friends came to haggle over bargains in furniture. Rod took it out in drink. Drinking was about all that he had learned, and now they told him that he would have to go to work. Bonnie tried to prod his courage, but he had no courage to prod. To fulfill her own boast of getting a man-sized job, she went to work as a reporter. Her friend here was Bert Scranton, a reporter. The first days would have been hard without him.

Bonnie and Rod took a miserable little flat, where Bonnie dealt out meals and management, and most of all, encouragement. He got a job at last, but was evasive about details, and no wonder. It was with Luvu, bootlegger and gangster. Rod's large acquaintance among Chicago's millionaire class was valuable to Luvu in the sale of liquor. Rod was out with the gang on the night when the men of Olansky's crew were murdered in cold blood in a garage. He came back to Luvu's place, wrecked with horror. It was this condition that made him putty in the skilled hands of Bert Scranton, whom the Herald sent to Luvu's to nose out the story of the gang murder. Rod's punishment for this treachery was a rain of blows in the face and the assignment to kill Bert Scranton before he could get back to the paper with his information. There was no other course. Machine guns were trained on Bert and opened wide.

The Herald was offering forty thousand dollars for the apprehension of the murderer of its reporter. All the paper's men were too well known in gangland to be sent as scouts; hence, Bonnie was given this important duty.

Many of her old friends frequented Luvu's and one night they were stupefied to see that the new dancer was Bonnie. Bob was with them and he was nauseated to see her play to Luvu. Bob invaded her dressing room.

"Who is it?" Bonnie asked as he came in.

"It's Bob. May I come in?"

Bonnie looked startled—this was no time to see Bob. She thought she had escaped him. The door opened and Bob entered.

"Come in. What's the matter?"

Bonnie asked as she saw his embarrassment. "You've seen me like this before. You'll pardon me if I go on dressing? I've a supper date and I—just can make it if I hurry! Hand me those slippers, will you? If you don't mind?"

Bob handed her the slippers from a shelf. She slipped them on.

"What's the idea behind all this, Bonnie?"

"All what?"

"Luvu's cabaret, and so on! Did you have to come to this?"

"Hum—yes!"

"Why didn't you let me know?"

"And what would you have done for me, if I had?"

"Well—I—"

"That's just what I thought! Bob, will you hand me that cloak?"

She was making it very hard for him. She rose and held out her hand for the coat. As he walked toward her with the garment he suddenly crushed her to him. He kissed her savagely.

She drew away and held him back.

"What's the matter? You've kissed me before, haven't you?" he asked.

"You forget that was on approval! It wasn't a permanent arrangement."

"Aren't you being—clever?"

"Aren't you being—vague, as usual?"

"All right. If you want a permanent arrangement, how's this? I'll set you up in a real establishment any time you like. The kind a girl like you is suited for. You don't have to make your living off Jake Luvu, dancing in his night club! I can do better for you than that! You can have your pick of any apartment on the Drive. Is that clear vague?"

"That's very clear!" Etc., etc.

This most gripping film production, showing flaming youth in the gorgeous costumes of Chicago's rich, the thrills of a girl in combat with the underworld, will appear at Cole's theatre, Bellevue, on Wednesday and Thursday next, April 22nd and 23rd. Don't miss it.

MONEY IN MOTOR TRAFFIC

Premier Tolmie, of British Columbia, in a recent address, reminded his audience that tourist traffic in that province last year left $80,000,000 in its wake, and the tourist industry had become of first rank importance. He referred to the $1,000,000 appropriation for roads on Vancouver Island which was passed last year, and said that results from the standpoint of the tourist industry would be far-reaching. Although but 8.5 per cent of the total area of the province, Vancouver Island had 11 per cent of its road mileage. Extending from Victoria to north of Courtenay, the Island Highway, he said, was a continuous traffic way of paved or bituminous surfacing for 152 miles, carrying an average of 2000 cars a day in the tourist season.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

Mr. A. Sheppard and children returned Saturday last from a motor trip to the Edmonton district.

The roadhead of the government highway between Corbin and McGillivray has become so hot ended by frost coming out of the ground, also excessive precipitation, that it is impossible to motor cars at the present time.

The hockey boys are winding up their season with a big dance on Friday, April 24th.

The Anglican Ladies' Guild held a very successful bridge drive and dance in the Club hall on Friday night last. Several hands of bridge were played during the early part of the evening, at which Mr. Tom Collins won the ladies' first prize, and Mrs. Tom Mansel the consolation.

Mr. Hunger carried away the gent's first prize, and Joe Vasek was awarded the consolation. A record crowd attended the dance, for which Danny Waddington and Barney Lyne supplied music. A very delicious supper was served at midnight by the members of the Guild.

Special Easter services were held in Corbin on Sunday last at both the Anglican and the Roman Catholic churches.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Ben Kaye, who underwent a very serious operation for appendicitis in a Pincher Creek hospital on Friday, is slowly recovering.

Seeding was begun in the district this week.

Steps are now being taken by legal authority to have the births of all Doukhobor children here registered. Up until the present time, they have paid little or no attention to this matter.

On Friday night, the store of James Leigh was broken into and robbed of around two hundred dollars' worth of merchandise. In the past two years this store has been entered on three occasions, each time with similar loss.

A concert by the school children was held in the United church on Sunday last, when a good crowd turned out. Divine service will be held in this church on Sunday next, April 19th, at 7:30 p.m. We understand that a student minister will be located in the district during the summer months, beginning his work here around May 1st.

Easter service was conducted in the Anglican church here on Sunday last, when the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. Rev. Mr. Jeffcott, of Pincher Creek, was in charge of the service. Services will be held again on the second Sunday in May.

On Wednesday last, a combination whist drive and dance, sponsored by the Roman Catholic church, was held in the Masonic hall. Prizes were won as follows: ladies' first, Mrs. Wilfred Fortier; gent's first by Mr. Robert Littlejohn; while the consolations were awarded to Miss Frances Smith and Rev. Father O'Dea. After an appetizing luncheon, served by the ladies, dancing was indulged in at a lively pace for a couple of hours, good music being furnished by local talent. Around twenty dollars was added to the church funds.

Bradford Tustian has returned from a visit to Calgary.

Miss Martha Tustian is a visitor to Calgary.

David Murphy was a business visitor to Lethbridge the latter part of the week.

Kenneth Brockwell was a visitor to Lethbridge on Thursday last.

Miss Nellie McWilliams was a week-end visitor to Lethbridge.

Mrs. Mary Jane Melgheun, mother of Rt. Hon. Arthur Melgheun, died at Toronto on Friday night last, at the ripe age of eighty-three years. She is survived by six children, of whom Hon. Arthur is second in age. The others are: Mrs. Sarah Robertson, of Edmonton; Mrs. Annie White, of Toronto; William Melgheun, warden of Stony Plains penitentiary, Manitoba; Edward at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba; and Mrs. Jack Anderson, Welland, Ontario.

Perspiration

EDISON began life as a newsboy and he has been busy ever since.

He was visited, so the story goes, by a young woman interested in his accomplishments and anxious to meet him personally.

"To what do you attribute your success?" asked the lady.

"Just work, madam," said Edison, "hard work and sticking to it."

"But, sir, you have genius," she ventured, "surely that has something to do with it."

The great man's reply was typical. He replied, slowly, "Perhaps so! Perhaps so! But then, you see, my particular brand of genius is one per cent inspiration and ninety-nine per cent perspiration."

"Uh-hu," said the miss, and she went home to think it over.

Many business men and many farmers who have made a success of their undertakings might with truth reply in the same way. We are living in a fast age. Competition is keener than it ever was before. The man who climbs even half way up the hill of complete success must rush during every minute of the working hour and spend his leisure moments in healthful recreation. The rule is universal. Mighty little advantage comes by chance and that mighty little is lamentably transitory. To the farmer, more than most others it is especially applicable. He works so much under conditions over which he has little or no control. He may choose the best of seed and if he has a lot of common sense, a little money, and a little knowledge of soil conditions, he may get hold of some good land and cultivate it well. After he has done this he is pretty nearly through till harvest time. The winds, the rain and the sunshine—sometimes the lack of them—will do the rest. The crop grower must have a lot of leisure time on his hands? Oh, yes, that's what you are thinking, but you are asking the question of the inexperienced. The perspiration comes as honestly, and as profusely—often more profusely—during the waiting period as during the toil of seeding time. You never really saw black hail clouds poking their noses up above the horizon, or the thermometer drop when the wheat was "in the milk," or the oat stock wither and fall to the ground. Common experiences of this kind attract the farmer to his fellows. So from time to time agriculturalists get together and talk things over. Just now they are planning the most representative gathering of crop producers and others interested ever held. Farmers from all over the world are going to meet at Regina in 1932. What for? Well, they have an idea that by so doing they may discover some means of reducing the unnecessary flow of perspiration.

A New Order Prevails

In the business and financial section of one of the most conservative (spelled with a small "c") papers in Canada we find the following paragraphs:

"That our present economic scheme is seriously at fault surely no reasonable person will deny. The existence of hunger and want in the midst of plenty—the fact that the existence of this abundance of supplies is itself responsible, at least in part, for our present condition, surely constitutes uncontrovertible evidence of our economic unsoundness."

"Argue as we may as to the respective responsibilities for the current depression of the various immediately contributory factors such as over-production and under-consumption of commodities, shortage of gold, hoarding of gold, demonetization of silver, tariffs, war debt, etc., the fact remains that our present economic system doesn't work. It functions increasingly poorly even in 'good' times; its breakdown is immediate and shocking when bad times recur."

"The fact that Big Business, our industrial magnates and captains of finance, as well as the workers, now recognize this fact, is perhaps the most hopeful sign of all. There was a time when everybody everywhere accepted 'bad times' as inevitable sooner or later. But not now. The world is at last coming to a realization of the truth that many of our economic ills are largely man-made, and, therefore, capable of both prevention and cure by man-made means. Cure and prevention will not be brought about by any one magic formula, nor can it be accomplished overnight. The process of developing solutions may be slow and painful. We will probably have to discard many pre-conceived ideas, and accept policies formerly rejected as impracticable and utopian."

For example, there is a growing acceptance of the fact that the old idea of nationalism as opposed to internationalism must give way. The Great War has taught all nations at least one lesson, namely, that no one nation can live unto itself alone; that, on the contrary, each nation is dependent on other nations whether they like it or not. Recognition of this fact led to the creation of the League of Nations to direct the world's thought in relation to matters of peace and war. Deliberations of the League Assembly soon revealed that the issue of peace or war was not confined to the solution of racial problems, or the adjustment of boundary disputes, or the eradication of designs by one nation on another for purposes of gain and glory. The maintenance of peace, or the outbreak of war, was found to depend, in many cases, upon the illiteracy of a people, upon the social conditions under which they lived, upon their sharp contrasts of great wealth on the one hand and grinding poverty on the other, upon their ability to sell and buy what their necessities demanded they should buy. Hence the League of Nations today is scientifically studying every conceivable subject in relation to the welfare of all nations and races.

This lesson was not learned at once, and immediately following the Great War, nations everywhere adopted policies with a view to making themselves self-contained. Where one adopted policies to that end, others followed. Instead of recognizing and profiting by the lesson taught by war, they ignored it and went to extremes. That is one of the outstanding reasons for and causes of the present world depression and stagnation in business. A man conceivably can live and eke out an existence on his own farm, refusing to have any relations whatever, business or otherwise, with his neighbors, but he will deny himself all the enjoyments, refinements, and many of what we now regard as the necessities of life. Never will he become prosperous. And so it is with nations.

An Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., told the recent Teachers' Convention in Saskatchewan, the world is facing an entirely new order. Instead of confining our thought and our policies to an extreme nationalism, we must become internationally minded. She declared that most people were internationally illiterate, and were not conversant with conditions existing in the world and the relation which one part bears to the other. People have not kept pace with the trend of the times, whereby the day of the self-contained and independent nation has given place to a new era of inter-dependence of nations. And because we have not realized how completely the world is inter-dependent, we are still trying to solve our problems with yesterday's methods. They won't work because the world has moved to a new condition; the old is gone forever.

We must take that lesson to heart, and govern ourselves accordingly. We cannot be prosperous if other nations are not. Their prosperity is absolutely essential to our own well being.

Find Centuries Old Trees

Discovery Is Made Of Ancient Buried Trees In Quebec

Quite recently some white birch trees which had been buried for centuries were discovered in the vicinity of the village of Rivière St. Jean, Quebec, by a field officer of the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior. The remarkable thing about these trees was their state of preservation. Specimens were presented to the Forest Products Laboratories, Department of the Interior, at Ottawa, whose officers state that preservation was due to a surplus of water and a deficiency of air, conditions inhibiting the growth of wood-decaying fungi.

Better Fertilizers

Demand For Fertilizers Containing Highest Percentage Of Plant Food

The Dominion Seed Branch reports that the volume of fertilizer sold in Canada increased from a total of 50,000 tons in 1924, to about 225,000 tons in 1929. Increased tonnage, however, is not the whole story. The average analysis of mixed fertilizer sold in 1924 showed about 14 per cent. total plant food as compared with about 30 per cent. in 1929, so that the actual plant food sold in mixed fertilizers in 1929 was at least eight times that of 1924. The trend seems to be toward higher analysis fertilizers containing less filler and more plant food at lower cost to the farmer. The trend in demand, also, is for the fertilizer containing the higher percentage of plant foods.

Good News For Aviators

Device To Keep Ice Off Wings Of Plane Is A Success

Victory was reported at Akron, O., over one of the aviator's most dangerous enemies—ice that forms on the wings of his aeroplane and sometimes causes it to be wrecked. Through low-hanging clouds, at freezing temperature and an altitude of 5,000 to 3,000 feet, Charles Meyers, of Cleveland, piloted his aeroplane, which was equipped with rubber "overshoes."

The overshoes—pouches of a specially treated rubber fabric fitted over the leading edges of the plane and wings and struts—were made to "breathe" as the ice formed on them. As they breathed the ice crumbled away.

The inflation and deflation, which worked like a man's lungs, were created by a motor-driven air pump in the cockpit.

SAVED IMPORTED DRESS

"After a little wearing, a lovely green velvet—an important dress—lost color so completely that it was not wearable. A friend who had admired it asked me why I wasn't wearing it any more. On hearing the reason, she advised dyeing it and recommended Diamond Dyes. To make a long story short, it turned out beautifully. I have a lovely new dress that really cost just 15c—the price of one package of Diamond Dyes."

I have since used Diamond Dyes for both tinting and dyeing. They do either equally well. I am not an expert dyer but I never have a failure with Diamond Dyes. They are so easy to use they always go on smoothly and evenly. They never spot, streak, or fade. I have never known the things I dye with Diamond Dyes are redyed at all."

Reciprocal Trade

Would Refrain From Advertising Dominion Products In Britain

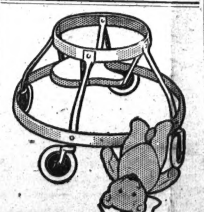

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominion Affairs, was asked by a questioner in the British House of Commons to consider the advisability of refraining from further advertising Dominion products on British Marketing Board boardings in Britain. "Until a scheme is evolved whereby similar advertising of British goods can be shown in the Dominion,"

The minister replied in the negative. The questioner, he added, "is asking me to agree to something that would be a violation of the bargain I have made with the Dominions. I am endeavoring to ask them to reciprocate in other ways, but to say that unless you do it we refuse to give you the effect of our part in the bargain, is rather wide."

Ontario Cancer Commission

Treatment Of Cancer By Radium Will Be Subject Of Enquiry

The treatment of cancer by radium will be the subject of an enquiry by a royal commission, Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health, announced in the Ontario legislature. The announcement led to an unqualified condemnation of the use of radium by the former minister of health, Hon. Dr. Forbes Goffrey, Dr. Robb's designate in the House.

It was a case not only of doctors disagreeing, but of ministers of health and Conservative front-benchers disagreeing and the incident created a distinct sensation in the House. Forgotten rumors to the effect that Dr. Goffrey had left the Ontario cabinet party because of a disagreement with former Premier Ferguson on the question of radium were recalled.

"Cancer is a public health problem," said Dr. Robb. "It can be checked if it is caught in time. Early treatment is the great secret and if we are going to use radium we had better concentrate on that. Those who have studied the question in this province feel we should have more radium."

"I have the authority of the prime minister to say that a royal commission will be appointed to look into the matter and when the commission makes its report some definite policy will be announced on the matter." Whether the government should step in and purchase a quantity of radium for treatment of cancer patients in Ontario was something which would be decided when the commission brought in its findings.

"I am sorry to have to disagree with the minister, but I must do so most emphatically," said Dr. Goffrey. "Cancer is hereditary. Treatments by surgery, X-ray and radium have all proved dismal failures. I am entirely opposed to the use of radium. If I am ever so unfortunate as to become cancerous I would die of cancer in preference to death from radium."

An Unfamiliar Country

Few Canadians Know Very Much About Argentina

Canada stretches across the north half of North America. Argentina occupies the greater part of the southern extremity or "tail" of South America. Argentina's length from north to south is approximately two-thirds of Canada's from east to west.

Its population is perhaps a million greater than Canada's. Its largest city, Buenos Aires, is three times the size of Toronto, and, with its 2,225,000 inhabitants, ranks as the world's eighth. They are (in millions of population): London, 7.4; New York, 6.3; Berlin, 4.0; Chicago, 3.7; Paris, 2.8; Osaka, 2.4; Tokyo, 2.2; Buenos Aires, 2.2. Argentina has four other cities larger than Hamilton, Ont., ranging in population from 460,000 down to 170,000, whose names (Rosario, Cordoba, Avellaneda, and La Plata), are quite unfamiliar to the average Canadian reader. But the opening of the British Trade Exposition in Buenos Aires, and the visit of the Prince of Wales to Argentina, has drawn all eyes to that far and unfamiliar country.—Toronto Star.

Volume Of Eskimo Poems Just Published

Translated Into English By Arctic Explorer Should Be Interesting

Knud Rasmussen, the Arctic explorer, has sprung a surprise upon the world.

He has celebrated his return to civilization, after many years of wandering in the wilds, by publishing a volume of poems by Eskimos.

It will be interesting to see the poems in English. We may be sure Rasmussen has presented them worthily in print, for, with his European education, he has the advantage of being himself half an Eskimo, and so thoroughly understands his subject.

It seems natural for primitive people to talk of wild picturesque poetry, unrhymed, but full of beauty and imagination, such as we see fired for all time in the musical names which the Red Indians gave to rivers and lakes and mountains in their native land.

It will be remembered by some that scholars have declared the Eskimo language contains only about two hundred words which should add greatly to the labors of the poets.

It has been estimated that 12,000 typographical characters, laid end to end would make a line only an inch long.

BANK CREDITS FOR FARMERS UNDER REVIEW

Ottawa, Ont.—The way has been opened for closer co-operation between the banks and the governments, declared Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, commenting on the conference held here between representatives of the chartered banks, Dominion Government, and governments of the three prairie provinces. Matters relating to bank credits, especially as they affect farmers of the west, were discussed.

Only the broad principles relating to credits were under review. Premier Brownlee said he was satisfied with the results and was hopeful that the basis of a working agreement would be established. He intimated there will be further conferences held between the provincial governments and western executives of the banks.

Although no official statement was issued after the conference it was understood the bankers intimated their intention to instruct local managers in the west to give sympathetic consideration to farmers whose loans mature and who are not in a position to meet them.

It also was understood the bankers promised consideration to representations made concerning loan rates. Farmers, it was believed, they would be able to obtain money at reasonable rates of interest. Premier R. B. Bennett represented the Dominion at the conference; Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, was represented by Hon. M. A. MacPherson, Hon. W. W. Smith, Saskatchewan, and Hon. R. A. Hoey, Manitoba.

The banks of Montreal, Royal, Nova Scotia and Commerce were represented.

Chicago's New Mayor

Mayor-Elect Cermak Busy With Re-Organization Of Municipal Government

Chicago.—Speedy re-organization of Chicago's municipal government was promised by Mayor-elect Anton J. Cermak.

The new mayor will have a working majority in the city council, considerably enhanced by victories which accompanied his own success. Thirty of the city's 50 aldermen are Democrats. Nine of the 20 Republicans were elected as allies of Mayor Thompson.

"What are you going to do about Al Capone?" British reporters asked on the phone.

"I understand he is out of town," replied Cermak, "and my advice to him is to stay out for the next four years. He is under sentence here you know, and I suggest that he stay in Florida, that's where he belongs now."

Cermak laughed when the London writers asked about Thompson attack on the King.

"He didn't really fool you people, did he?" chuckled the mayor-elect. "No, he isn't really anti-British. The British vote is the smallest in Chicago, so he decided to pick on the British King. No, I haven't anything against King George or any other king."

Importance Of Wheat Conference

Robert Gardiner Says Hopes Of Western Agriculture Depend On Outcome

Calgary, Alberta.—Upon the outcome of the wheat conference in London, England, next month, the hopes of western agriculture depends, according to Robert Gardiner, U.F.A., president and leader of the Progressive group in the House of Commons. Much will depend upon the mutual arrangement for the division of available markets. The solution, he thought, would be an arrangement by Canada, United States, Russia, Argentina and Australia to permit orderly marketing of the export surplus of each of these countries to their mutual advantage. This, if developed, would involve development of centralized marketing from Canada, possibly under government auspices.

The other alternative would be a compulsory pool, Mr. Gardiner said, although he has been opposed to this method.

Reduced Railway Fares

Drastric Cut For Summer Week-End Trips Is Announced

Montreal.—Drastric cuts in fares on Canadian railroads for the summer week-ends were announced by C. T. Riddell, chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association, after a series of conferences. The new scale will go into effect May 1, and will continue through June and July. The new round trip fare from Friday noon till Monday midnight will be only one and one-quarter times the present single fare.

The reduction will be of special benefit to those passengers wishing to week-end in the country.

The present round trip fare for 100 miles journey is $6.20 and under the new week-end rate will be only $4.35.

The reductions will apply between all stations in Canada and will commence with the first week-end in May.

No Cancellation Likely

Serious Hardships Would Attend Reduction In Air Mail Service

Ottawa, Ont.—It is unlikely there will be any cancellation of existing air mail contracts it was stated on excellent authority here. The need for exercising economies in the post office department, coupled with the necessity for overhauling some of the $5,000,000 deficit with which the department completed the fiscal year, had given rise to the expectation that the government would reduce some of the unremunerative services, in which category the air mail service is understood to fall.

Cancellation of the contracts, however, would have entailed considerable hardship inasmuch as in the expectation of a continuance of the service, several companies had incurred large capital expenditures in establishing air transportation organizations.

Hangar To Be Rebuilt

Winnipeg, Man.—Plans for rebuilding of the Western Canada Airways hangar here destroyed by fire a short time ago at a loss of about $200,000 have been completed and tenders on the construction called for. The new hangar will be about the same size as that destroyed.

Cost Is Prohibitive

Winnipeg-Calgary Air Mail Letters 337 Each Is Report

Calgary, Alberta.—Air mail letters between Calgary and Winnipeg are costing on an average $37 each, according to statements made here by Dr. G. D. Stanley, M.P. for East Calgary, who has just returned from Ottawa.

Government investigations have revealed the prohibitive cost of the present air mail service, he said, and these surveys show that Calgary sends two letters by air for every one sent by Winnipeg.

Canadian Wins Medal

Honor Goes To Deputy Minister Of Department Of Mines

Ottawa, Ont.—A signal honor has been conferred on Dr. Charles Campbell, deputy minister of the Department of Mines. A cable from London announced that he had been awarded this year's gold medal by the British Institution of Mining and Metallurgy. One medal is awarded each year to the person, without regard to nationality, whom the institution decides is the most deserving.

ARGUE QUESTION OF RESOURCES COMPENSATION

Ottawa, Ont.—The amount of compensation to be paid to Saskatchewan and Alberta by the Dominion for alienation of their natural resources from 1906 to October 1 last, the date of return, may be decided upon by the same commission for both provinces. This suggestion, it is understood, was under consideration at a meeting between Premier R. B. Bennett, Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of Interior; Hon. M. A. MacPherson, Attorney-General of Saskatchewan, and Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta. No official statement, however, was made.

Under the respective agreements between the Dominion and the two provinces, entered into more than a year and a half ago, the amount of compensation to be paid to Saskatchewan and Alberta for alienation during this period was not fixed. Commissions were to be appointed and, in the case of Alberta, one was named, but no such step was taken in regard to Saskatchewan. What the personnel of the commission would be if the same body is to function with regard to both provinces is uncertain at the moment, assuming that such a suggestion is acted upon.

Further discussion will take place on this point and in the matter of the turning over by the Dominion of certain records to these provinces. In addition, Saskatchewan has an appeal pending before the judicial committee of the privy council asking for an accounting by the Dominion in respect to the administration of that province's natural resources prior to 1905.

Dr. Henry Greiss, Presbyterian missionary physician at Barrow, performed the inoculations.

Projects For Churchill

Two Million Dollars Worth Of Building Material Being Assembled

The Pac. Man.—Two million dollars worth of building material is being assembled and plans are under way for the employment of 1,000 men for work on the 2,000,000 bushel elevator project at Churchill, terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway.

Material is being assembled in Winnipeg and 30 trains of 40 cars each will be required for the shipment of steel and equipment to Manitoba's seaport. Work on the elevator project will be well underway by July 1, contractors stated.

Churchill will have its first hotel this summer and the first test shipment of grain will be made from the port in September, according to Hon. D. C. McKeane, Minister of Natural Resources. No "boom" conditions will be permitted.

Soviets Extending Air Service

Ambitious Civil Aviation Program Announced By Government

Moscow, Russia.—Coinciding with the opening, May 1, of several Russian passenger and mail aero lines, the Soviet Government announced an ambitious civil air program. Some 13,000 student aviators are in training and a total of 172,000,000 rubles is budgeted for civil aviation in 1931. Plans call for extending the passenger and mail lines over 25,000 miles and installing fifty new aerodromes and 250 landing fields.

The Governor-General and his family arrived at Rideau Hall shortly before noon. Four hours later Viscount Duncanson was at the office of motor license to secure his permit.

Doubts Quota Policy

British Miller Thinks Wheat Scheme Is Too Dangerous

London, England.—John Westgate, of Liverpool, who is an officer of the National Association of British and Irish millers, is inclined to doubt the report that the government is considering the imposition of regulations requiring British millers to take 15 per cent. of requirements from wheat grown in the United Kingdom.

No definite scheme has been submitted to the millers by any political party, he said.

"It is perfectly certain that no legislation is possible without the millers' agreement," said Mr. Westgate, in an interview with the Manchester Guardian. "The quota system is far too dangerous to be acceptable. And the English wheat policy at present is insufficient to constitute a 15 per cent. quota."

Anglo-German Conference

Matters Of Vital Importance Will Be Discussed

London, England.—Matters of the utmost importance in European policies will be discussed from June 5 to 9, when Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Julius Curtius, of Germany come to England for a conference with Premier MacDonald and other British statesmen.

Among the questions expected to be considered are general disarmament, especially in relation to the Geneva conference early in 1932, and the Austro-German economic pact, but no topic of significance to European politics is likely to be barred.

Official British circles take very calmly the suggestion that other European powers had been somewhat ruffled by the exclusive nature of the conference.

WIDER POWERS ARE SEEN FOR THE DOMINIONS

Ottawa, Ont.—Statute of Westminster has been approved by representatives of the nine provinces of Canada. A section of this proposed act, however, will contain definite provisions for the Dominion constitution. This section, which was left to Canada to draft, ensures that the Statute of Westminster cannot repeal or amend the British North America Act.

This was the net result of the Dominion-Provincial conference which concluded here. An official statement, handed out after the conference, announced that a final draft of the Canadian clause in the Statute of Westminster was now in the hands of the provincial representatives. While approved by the conference, the draft of the clause has been taken home for submission to the provincial governments. Two weeks has been allotted for discussion by the provinces.

Now that the clause is under consideration which will set at rest any fears that the B.N.A. Act might be altered by the Statute of Westminster, the question of how the B.N.A. Act can be changed as the occasion for amendments develops is to be taken up at some further conference in which the Dominion and the provinces will take part. This was announced by Premier Bennett.

Many changes to the act, which is Canada's constitution, defining provincial and Dominion rights, have been made from time to time, but the parties are for the most part in agreement that where a change of importance is to be made, all the provinces must consent. The conference will seek to arrive at the most satisfactory method of making changes.

Adherence to the Statute of Westminster means widened jurisdiction for the Dominions of the British Empire. It provides that the Dominion may enact extraterritorial laws. It declares the Dominions will no longer be subject to British statutes unless they so desire. It repeals the Colonial Laws Validity Act. It gives legal approval to the claims of the Dominions to equality of status in the British Commonwealth.

If the provinces approve of the clause which was agreed on at the conference, the next step will be taken by the Dominion Government in the present session of Parliament. A resolution or bill will be introduced expressing Canada's adherence to the statute. The Imperial conference of last year agreed that the Dominion should express their attitude toward the statute by August. If there is general agreement, the Imperial parliament will be asked to pass the Statute of Westminster.

ALBERTA WILL APPEAL DECISION ON FRAUDS ACT

Ottawa, Ont.—Alberta, supported by Ontario, will carry to the Privy Council an appeal against the decision of the Supreme Court of Alberta, holding the Alberta Fraud Securities Act ultra vires in part. Intimation to this effect was made here by Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, and Hon. W. S. Price, attorney-general of Ontario.

Legislation in question was enacted by the Alberta legislature following the meeting of attorneys-general of the various provinces, convened in Toronto more than a year ago. The intention of Attorney-General Price to consider steps to prevent defrauding of the public.

Representations were also made by the attorneys-general of various provinces to the Dominion Government seeking to have the Federal Companies Act amended so as to give the provinces the same control over stock sold in companies holding Dominion charters as they have in respect to stock sold in companies incorporated under provincial laws. Consideration to the representations of the provinces was promised.

Study West's Needs

Would Appoint Commission To Investigate Conditions In Western Canada

Winnipeg, Man.—Conservatives of the legislature, opposed to a government-sponsored resolution that would request the Dominion to peg wheat prices, announced an amendment would be placed before the House asking for appointment of a commission to make a study of the West's economic needs. John T. Haig, Conservative member for Winnipeg, said his resolution was a declaration of policy for his party. It urges the legislature to recommend to the Dominion Government "that a commission should be established, similar to the Dupon commission in the Maritime provinces, to investigate as to the economic conditions in Western Canada, with particular reference to the cost of production of farm products."

Freight rates costs to western countries of goods purchased by them; interest rates on loans and debt adjustment would also be points of examination.

In the event of the Dominion Government failing to appoint a commission the resolution urges that British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan governments be approached with a view to the appointment of a commission by the western provinces.

E. Riley, High Rider, Alberta rancher, said on reaching this city.

Old Age Pensions

Winnipeg, Man.—Old age pensions will be paid in full in Manitoba this year regardless of whether or not Prime Minister R. B. Bennett implements his promise for the Dominion to take over 95 per cent. of the cost, it was declared in the legislature by Hon. W. J. Major, attorney-general.
